MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION & ANALYSIS

COMPANY OVERVIEW

Eon Electric Limited (hereinafter “the Company”) is engaged in the business of manufacturing and marketing of energy efficient lighting & other electrical and electronic products such as LED Lights, Lighting products, Energy Efficient Fans, Water Heaters, Lithium ion batteries, Mobile Phone accessories, Wires & Cables and other allied products.

The company continues to be committed towards making the best of quality products at affordable prices through technological innovation and up gradation, modernisation, adoption of best practices, global benchmarking, value proposition, and deep commitment to customer satisfaction besides ensuring human as well as environmental safety, thus enhancing the value addition for the investors and for the society as a whole.

Industry Structure & Development, Opportunity & Threats

The Indian Power Sector is a core component of the Indian infrastructure and its expansion is essential for the success of economic liberalization of India. This is evident from ever increasing power demand of the country's vibrant economy leading to a widening gap between the supply and demand. The Government of India has recognized the pivotal role of electric power in economic development and also the urgent and critical need to invest heavily to reduce the growing gap in power demand and supply.

During the 12th five year plan, India shall be adding a power generation capacity of 88,425 MW. The share of the private sector in the additional capacity will be 52% compared to the target of 19% in the 11th plan. This massive addition in generation capacity would also bring along with it a much bigger demand for electrical equipments and components including Cables and Wires, Switches etc.

The retail electrical industry is divided into two sub segments namely the power distribution equipment segment, which includes products such as switchgear, cables, wires and energy meters etc, and consumer durables segments, which include energy saving Compact Fluorescent Lamps (CFLs), Fluorescent Tube Lights, LEDs, Light Fittings, Luminaries, Switches etc. The growth of distribution equipment segment is linked to the growth of the power Industry and growth of Consumer durable is directly linked to infrastructure development projects like housing etc. The growing power sector and boom in construction as well as real estate industry not only in India but many other parts of the world offer huge opportunities for growth of the industry.

Lighting Industry:

The emphasis on the power sector and its phenomenal growth and distribution laid the foundation for the lighting industry in India. Under the present energy crisis, both industrial and domestic sectors of the market expect better lighting systems to optimize the use of energy. Hence, over conventional lamp, energy saving lamp is preferred now a days by industry. Apart from the energy efficiency, improved illumination, advanced lumen techniques and enhanced aesthetics are the features considered by the industry.

The Lighting Industry in India is growing at nearly 17 to 18% per annum over the last 2-3 years to an annual turnover of Rs.7500 crore. The consumer usage pattern for light sources witnessed a distinct shift from the conventional sources towards the new Energy Efficient Lamps.

Growing thrust on energy conservation and increasing power tariffs are encouraging use of energy-efficient light sources and systems such as LEDs by all consumer segments.

LEDs- the Light of the future : Today, India deals with challenges of energy deficiency, sustainability, and electrification of remote rural regions. Of the entire energy consumption in India, lighting accounts for 20 percent. A very effective solution to India's lighting challenges that has emerged is Light Emitting Diode (LED). Awareness initiatives and government programs involving support to green technologies and provision for preferential excise rates has encouraged the LED lighting penetration in India.

Street lighting, industrial, and commercial applications are currently driving the LED market growth in India. The National Electronics Policy is bearing fruit, with India expected to witness establishment of LED Fabs and LED products manufacturing in the short term. With technological advancements, reliable product performance, increased competition, and reducing LED pricing, increased market adoption is expected across both indoor and outdoor LED lighting markets. Still, the LED market in India has its share of challenges such as relatively higher pricing, reliance on imports, and limited indigenous manufacturing.

Having tracked this highly dynamic market in India for half a decade, Frost & Sullivan expects the Indian LED market to grow over US$ 1 billion in the next four years. The market will witness a growth rate of more than 40 percent till 2016. It is also anticipated that the LED lighting market will move towards high quality, adaptable lighting with more efficient output. The market will witness a convergence scenario with other technology areas like wireless sensors and networks, augmented reality, and flexible electronics. This will shift emphasis to the lighting system as a whole.

Keeping in mind the massive rural electrification programmed increased emphasis on conservation of energy by the Government and SEBs through the use of LEDs, and the emergence of strong middle class, a demand explosion both in quantity and types is likely to occur in near future with emphasis on energy saving light sources. The Industry is further expected to achieve high growth in the back of high growth in Housing demands, commercial space and expansion in the overall economy.

The Central and States Governments, the Bureau of Energy Efficiency and the Energy Efficiency Services Limited (EESL), which is a joint venture of the 4 PSUs of the Government of India have launched a massive drive for replacement of the existing Street Lights across the country and lights in public spaces with energy efficient LED based street lights. Besides they have also launched programmes for distribution of Led bulbs to all the households at a heavily subsidized price through the Discoms. EESL and the ministry of power are working hand in hand with industry to bring this transition and ensuring that all government procurement of LED is made in India, helping the industry to move faster. This initiative of the Government for LED based home along with the street lighting will have a great impact in providing our nation with an energy efficient lighting source. The Government has also initiated making all LED specifications. Prime Minister Narendra Modi has described the LED bulb as a "Prakash Path" – "way to light." The growing demand would also give push to 'make-in-India' initiative and would also help and support Prime Minister Narendra Modi's 'Make in India' campaign as the companies would manufacture locally here,

According to the Electric Lamp and Component Manufacturers Association (ELCOMA), the government's initiative could help propel the industry to grow five-folds in five years from its current size of Rs 4,000 crore.

As per the ELCOMA vision, LED bulbs market would grow to Rs 20,000 crore by 2020 from an estimated Rs 4,000 crore in 2014. This has been driven by government initiatives of phasing out inefficient lighting sources such as incandescent bulb, tubes and halogen lamps.

Cables and Wire Industry:

The Cables & Wire industry has shown positive trends for the last five years due to the increased activity in power sector, improved industrial climate and industry initiative to explore export markets. This upswing is likely to continue for next few years due to various favorable factors, such as Power Sector reforms, growth in infrastructure sectors and high growth rate of Indian economy. The government has also extended support to this industry as wire and cable industry is de-licensed and eligible for automatic approval for Foreign Direct Investment up to 100 per cent.

The outlook of wires and power cables continue to remain positive on the back of demand expected to be generated as per estimation in various sectors like power, real estate etc. The increased investment in generation, transmission and distribution as planned under XII plan, increase in government spending on the infrastructure and restructuring of SEBs would provide boost to cable consumption. Along with power sector, real estate sector and industrial demand would also provide an upswing to the cable and wires industry in the near future. With growing quality consciousness and awareness for safety, there is a good potential for growth and demand for branded wires and cables in the industry

The building wiring cables segment comprises the wires and cables required for residential, commercial, hotels, shops and offices. This segment shows growth due to momentum in housing sector. The residential segment contributes a major portion of the demand, followed by shops and offices. The size of building wires and cables is estimated at approx Rs. 6000 crore, with a large segment being local and unorganized.

The cable industry is presently undergoing a difficult phase due to lower volume of orders for cables from various sectors like power, telecom, railways and various industrial, construction, engineering and manufacturing industries during the slowdown of economy. This coupled with the fact that various manufacturers had undertaken huge expansions to capacities, has resulted into under-utilization of their capacities.

Lithium Ion Batteries:

The Company has identified Lithium Ion Battery as a potential product for its expansion and growth. Currently there is no integrated manufacturer of Lithium Ion Batteries in India. In most cases, companies involved in this business import lithium ion cells from China and assemble batteries here in India. The handset manufacturers also import these batteries that are sold through their retail network. Local manufacturing is very limited. Eon Electric Limited is the first indigenous manufacturer in India.

India is one of the fastest growing markets for mobile phones and has approximately 300 million handsets being used by mobile subscribers currently. If one assumes the average life span of mobile batteries as 2 years, the size of replacement mobile battery market could be as big as 150 million units a year.

The growth rate of mobile phone connections in India is in the range of 25 to 30 percent per year.

The sale of replacement batteries is currently in the hands of many standalone traders and the quality of majority of these batteries is very poor. Over 75% of batteries available in the market are of C or D grade.

There is a big thrust being given by the mobile phone OEMs and other related parties in the Indian market for improved quality batteries. This is primarily because of poor customer experience with the existing products available in the Indian market which is also likely to affect the perceived quality of a mobile hand set in which the bad quality batteries may be used. The consumers are now moving to better quality batteries and the demand for better batteries is increasing fast. The government too is contemplating putting strict regulations on the quality of the batteries which can be sold in the replacement market.

The increased emphasis on power generation and new fast developing consciousness for conservation of power and energy efficiency has hastened the process of growth of demand for the Company's products. Further with the diversification of the Company's product range which would now also include Lithium ion Batteries, Energy Efficient fans, LEDs for Lighting and Luminaries, the prospects of the Company are good.

Since power sector and infrastructure/real estate sector are main consumers of Company's products, any slowdown in these sectors can largely impact the demand for Company's products.

11.1 Pursuant to notification of Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013, with effect from 1st April, 2014 as further amended on 29th August, 2014 which prescribes the charge of depreciation on the basis of useful lives of fixed assets as prescribed in the said Schedule, the management believes that the same will result in more appropriate presentation and will give a systematic basis of depreciation charge in which the economic benefits will be derived from the use of these assets. Accordingly the Company has with effect from 1st April, 2014 changed its method of providing depreciation from "Written Down Value" method, at the rates prescribed in Schedule XVI to the Companies Act, 1956 being followed upto 31st March, 2014 to "Straight Line" method on the basis of useful lives of fixed assets as prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013.

As prescribed under Accounting Standard (AS) 6 "Depreciation Accounting", the said change has been made with retrospective effect and the surplus on account of depreciation written back due to the change in the method for the period up to 31st March, 2014 amounting to ₹ 51,705,045/- and deferred tax of ₹ 15,753,110/- have been shown as Exceptional Items and credited/charged to the Statement of Profit & Loss.

As a result of the above change, the charge on account of depreciation and loss for the year ended 31st March, 2015 is lower by ₹ 5,534,943/- as compared to the method being followed earlier.

11.2 Pursuant to the provisions of Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013, the Written Down Value of fixed assets whose useful lives have expired as at 1st April, 2014 amounting to ₹ 724,104/- has been charged to the opening balance of Retained Earnings.
